- Balance sheet remixing is an opportunity
- Liquidity management must stay front and center !!!
- Credit normalization occurring, not collapsing, on watch as true strength of consumer in question
- Technology investment is not optional, now necessary !!!
- M&A poised to accelerate, upward trend continues
- Economic outlook: slower, but still resilient – remains uncertain
- War in Middle East

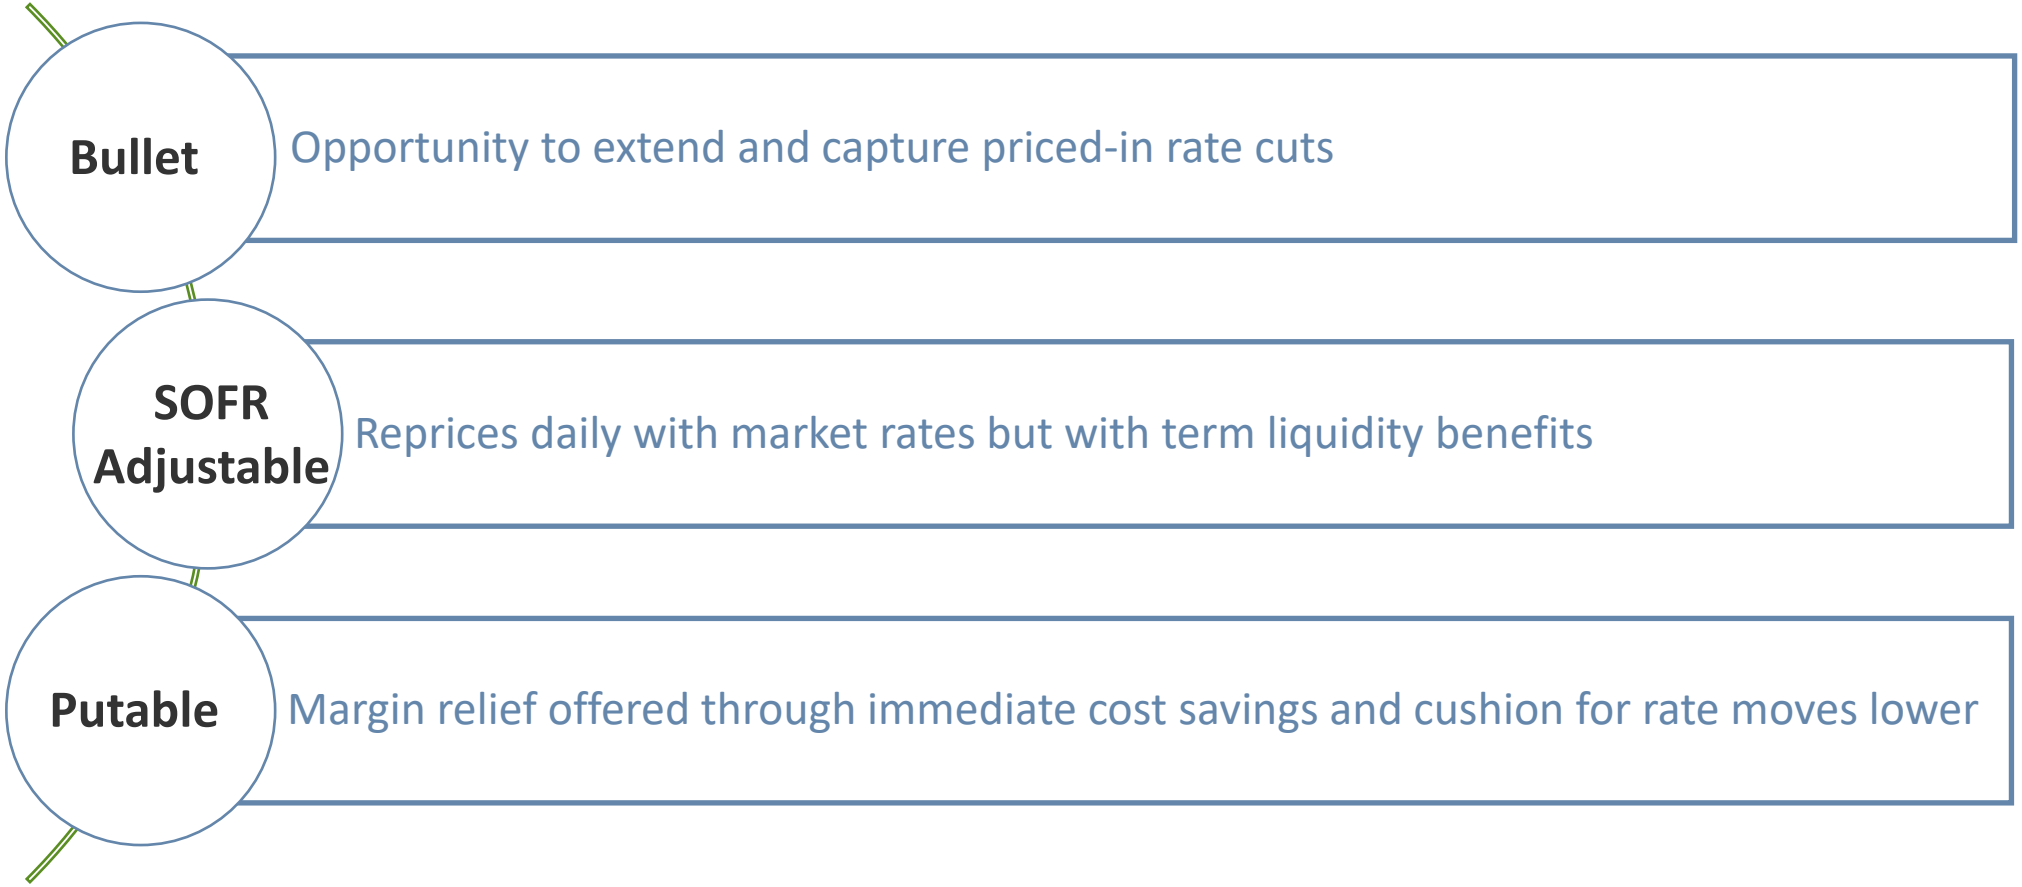
Liquidity and Funding Strategies

Liquidity and funding strategy considerations

- "higher for longer" back on the table
  - When we think about incremental funding needs, do we look to fund short or extend? Or maybe consider a blended funding strategy?
  - What are your balance sheet pain points and how does that fit with differing rate scenarios?
- Improve earnings with liability side of the balance sheet
  - Evaluate opportunities to stay invested to support earnings in near-term (leverage or pre-fund)
  - Carrying an OLOC balance? Take a look at moving a portion to a short-term SOFR adjustable-rate advance
  - Advance products can provide a strong alternative to brokered deposits and alternative funding sources, and can complement retail CD funding strategies
- Maximize borrowing capacity
- FHLBank asset-based liquidity strategies
  - Use FHLBank letters of credit to secure deposits and free up highly liquid securities
  - Sell 1-4 family mortgage loans held in portfolio originated within past 24 months to the FHLBank MPF program and recognize immediate income

Alternative FHLBank funding strategies to consider

Balancing act of managing interest-rate risk, liquidity risk and margin performance



Opportunity to hedge slowing loan activity

Anchor in yield and duration with bonds through leverage strategy with FHLBank advances

- May be attractive for members with capital and liquidity capacity
- Pre-investment: borrow against future maturities (usually short-term) to buy bonds at current yields then use maturing low-yield bonds to repay borrowings
- Reduce reinvestment risk

Example: $10 million pre-fund strategy

Liquidity Management Analysis

- A comprehensive analysis providing a foundation to help evaluate your current liquidity position and support your existing liquidity plan.
